

Pro-Life update

St John Paul and our modern Popes have called for CONVERSION from the culture of death to the Culture of Life.

On May 16 2015 His Excellency Bishop Paul Marwan Tabet celebrated a Pro-life mass at St Charbel parish in Ottawa, members of The Family and Pro-Life committee in the Epar- chy participated in the event.

USCCB Condemns Ruling

"A tragic error that harms the most vulnerable among us"

WASHINGTON, D.C., June 26, 2015 (ChurchMilitant.com) - The U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops have publicly come out against the Supreme Court's decision today ruling that same-sex "marriage" is a constitutional right, calling the decision a "tragic error" that will "harm the common good and most vulnerable among us."

Written by USCCB president Abp. Joseph E. Kurtz of Louis- ville, Kentucky, the statement makes no concessions and con- demns the decision from start to finish, arguing that the defi- nition of marriage will always be rooted in Catholic truth and the teachings of Our Lord Jesus Christ no matter what five unelected justices tell us to think. Statement below:

Regardless of what a narrow majority of the Supreme Court may declare at this moment in history, the nature of the hu- man person and marriage remains unchanged and unchange- able. Just as Roe v. Wade did not settle the question of abor- tion over forty years ago, Obergefell v. Hodges does not set- tle the question of marriage today. Neither decision is rooted in the truth, and as a result, both will eventually fail. Today the Court is wrong again. It is profoundly immoral and unjust for the government to declare that two people of the same sex can constitute a marriage.

Jesus Christ, with great love, taught unambiguously that from the beginning marriage is the lifelong union of one man and one woman. As Catholic bishops, we follow our Lord and will continue to teach and to act according to this truth.

Pope tells Girl Scouts to oppose 'ideologies' against God's design for marriage

ROME, June 30, 2015 (LifeSiteNews) – Pope Francis told Girl Scout and Girl Guide leaders from across the globe last week that it is essential they promote respect for mar- riage and family according to God's design.

The pope's remarks came as both the international organiza- tion, World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts, and Girl Scouts USA face criticism over support for abortion, homosexu- ality, transgenderism, and con- traception.

"It is very important today that a woman be adequately appre- ciated, and that she be able to take up fully the place that cor- responds to her, be it in the Church, be it in society," Pope Francis said in his address on the morning of June 26, prior to the U.S. Supreme Court's deci- sion imposing same-sex "marriage" on the country.

In the face of ideologies that seek to destroy the truths about marriage and family, he said, the formation of girls through Guiding "is absolutely determinant for the future."

"We are in a world in which the most contrary ideologies are spreading to the nature and design of God on the family and on marriage. Therefore, it is a question of educating girls not only to the beauty and grandeur of their vocation of women, in a just and differentiated relation between man and woman, but also to assume important responsibilities in the Church and in society," Pope Francis said.

THE PILL KILLS AGAIN 21 years old girl.

She died after 25 days on the pill. She was only 21. As in so many blood clot cases caused by birth control, she was misdi- agnosed when she went to the hospital struggling to breathe and experiencing pain in her legs and ribs. Continue on P3

Vocation : sa mère a choisi de ne pas avorter, il devient prêtre

Le diacre Ryan Allan Kaup, du Nebraska, revient de loin : sa mère souhaitait avorter avant de se raviser ; il se prépare à devenir prêtre, à la grande joie de ses parents adoptifs.

Il y a trente-six ans de cela, une étudiante prenait rendez-vous pour un avortement. Elle était seule et craignait de ne pas avoir les moyens de s'occuper d'un bébé. Dans le doute, elle demande un second rendez-vous avec un autre médecin. Ce dernier connaissait un couple infertile, Randy et Sherry Kaup, et la jeune femme choisit finalement de leur confier son bébé, trois jours après sa naissance.

L'enfant grandit heureux au sein de cette famille pratiquante. Il fait ses études dans une école catholique. Sa vocation apparaît au cours de ses études supérieures et il décide d'intégrer le séminaire du diocèse de Lincoln. Ses parents adoptifs le soutiennent « Ils sont géniaux » confie-t-il en souriant à LifeNews. (« Il sourit toujours lorsqu'il parle de ses parents », précise le magazine.)

Pourtant son chemin vers le sacerdoce n'a pas été une vallée de roses. La mort de son cousin et ami de 19 ans dans un accident de voiture, le met en colère contre Dieu. « Nous avions le même âge, se souvient-il, cela me semblait une telle injustice ! » Il attribue à son assiduité à la messe quotidienne la grâce de persévérer malgré la tragédie. Une fois sa colère surmontée, son amour pour Dieu se trouve renforcé. Et sa vocation se précise. Entré au séminaire, la formation l'apaise : « Je me suis calmé. Auparavant, j'étais une personne anxieuse, qui cherchait à tout contrôler. Maintenant je sais que je ne contrôle pas tout, et ça me va. »

Au Mexique, des Évêques exorcisent la nation entière pour la délivrer des démons de l'avortement

MEXICO, le 30 juin 2015 — Un événement sans précédent a eu lieu dans la ville de San Luis Potosi, au Mexique : un groupe d'évêques a effectué un exorcisme sur l'ensemble du pays.

« Le Mexique a ouvert la porte au diable quand l'avortement a été légalisé », a déclaré le cardinal Juan Sandoval, évêque émérite de Gualajara, qui a dirigé l'exorcisme. « Cela constitue la légalisation de l'homicide », a-t-il déclaré au journal El Universal.

Le premier exorcisme jamais effectué sur un pays tout en-tier a eu lieu le mois dernier à huis clos à l'intérieur de la cathédrale de San Luis Potosi. Cet événement a été rendu public après que le pape François en ait été informé. Roberto O'Farril est le seul journaliste qui a pu y assister.

Le Pape François à propos de l'avortement: Tuer une personne ne va jamais, jamais régler le problème

ROME, le 3 juin 2015 -- À la chapelle de Santa Marta et devant un auditoire composé d'enfants sérieusement malades et de leurs parents, le Pape François a offert des mots d'encouragement à propos de leurs souffrances. Il a réitéré la position de l'Église quant à l'avortement qui ne consiste pas en une solution à la suite d'un diagnostic d'une anomalie chez un enfant à naître.

« Jamais, jamais le fait de tuer une personne ne peut régler le problème. Jamais, » le pontife a déclaré en réponse à un père relatant comment lui et sa femme ont été conseillés d'avorter leur fille Andrea Maria mais ont refusé, en dépit d'une maladie sérieuse.

Le Pape François a dit au couple qu'il était convaincu que « Dieu les a appelés à une vocation de bons parents aimants. Être parents non une mais deux fois: pour la nature humaine et pour être choisis pour accompagner un enfant spécial, un cadeau spécial de Dieu le Père.

Une équipe de médecins pionniers parlent de l'interruption possible d'un avortement chimique - et des vies des bébés épargnés

LiveActionNews - traduit par Campagne Québec-Vie

Dr. George Delgado a récemment mis à disposition un traitement médical dont tous les États-Unis parlent. Il a découvert un moyen --nouveau, scientifiquement valable, et prouvé par l'usage médical-- d'annuler les avortements chimiques. Le genre d'avortement que le Dr. Delgado et son équipe proposent d'inverser est bien celui engendré par la pilule abortive. Il est mis en place à l'aide d'une combinaison de médicaments au premier trimestre de la grossesse.

Le Dr. Delgado oppose une controverse sincère et médiatique aux ardents défenseurs de l'avortement qui discréditent son traitement comme 'farfelu' et 'incertain' Alors que les partisans son traitement comme 'farfelu' et 'incertain' Alors que les partisans du Dr. Delgado ont obtenu un taux de réussite de 60% dans le pays, pour les mères qui souhaitaient renverser le processus d'avortement.

Breaking News: Health Canada has approved RU-486

July 29, 2015 (LifeSiteNews) - Health Canada has confirmed that it has approved the controversial abortion drug RU-486. Pro-life leaders say they are stunned by the news of the decision to expand abortion in a country where abortion on at taxpayer expense is already the norm.

The pill kills continues

She was sent home diagnosed with a bruised sternum. Four days later, she collapsed and was rushed to the hospital. On May 14, three days after arriving at the hospital, she was pronounced dead. According to an article in Cosmopolitan, tests revealed a large blood clot on her lung.

Her name was Fallan Kurek, and she worked with disabled children in Tamworth, New South Wales, Australia. She had started taking the pill—a combination oral contraceptive—to regulate her menstrual cycle. Why wasn't Fallan warned about the possibility of blood clots that accompany pill use? Why did the hospital not immediately connect her symptoms to the contraceptive she had just started taking?

Fallan's devastated mother was quoted in the Birmingham Mail, "She was only on it to regulate her periods. I couldn't believe nobody had said the pill could do this. It should say it on the pack that they can kill and the label."

Annually, one in every 3000 women taking birth control pills will develop blood clots. It is well known all across the medical community that the pill increases the risk for deadly blood clots. And that information is indeed printed on the very lengthy packet insert, which most women never read. But it is not displayed on the packet, the label, or any other prominent place. And even knowing of the possibility of blood clots, medical personnel didn't connect the dots for Fallan Kurek.

405,000 people, 104 bishops sign petition to Pope Francis asking for 'clarification' on marriage

July 30, 2015 (LifeSiteNews) - Over 405,000 people, including 104 prelates - cardinals, archbishops, and bishops - have so far signed the "Filial Petition" to His Holiness Pope Francis asking for "a word of clarification" as the "only way to overcome the growing confusion among the faithful" on the issues of marriage, divorce, and homosexual unions.

In a press release, the organizers of the petition said today that "an intervention by the supreme authority is needed in order to counter the creeping advance of the Cultural Revolution promoted by anti-Christian forces, which for decades have sought to undermine people's moral convictions based on the Gospel and the Natural Law."

Among the signatories is Cardinal Raymond Burke, who himself personally issued a call widely reported in the media for Pope Francis to clarify the Church's teachings on sexuality last November.

His call for clarification came after weeks of confusion during the Vatican's Extraordinary Synod on the Family, where some bishops openly pushed for the Church to allow divorced and civilly remarried Catholics to receive communion, seemingly with the tacit support of the pope. Others pushed for greater openness of the Church towards homosexuality.

Canadian Federal Election is expected in Oct. 2015.

The conservative is open to Pro-life and Pro abortion and against euthanasia, the Liberal Party forbids anyone Pro-Life to run. The NDP declared as Pro abortion party, the Green party is officially pro abortion and pro-euthanasia.
